The Education Program Expectations

We hope that your time together with your students is a time of fun, learning, and growth. You have worked hard to get this program off the ground. We trust you will be able to relax and enjoy the fruit of your hard work.

Our Education Program Leaders will work with you on the program to accomplish the goals we both have in mind. We want your Education Program to accent the work you have done in the classroom.

During the program, there are just a few things we would like to ask for you to keep in mind.

AT THE AIRPORT

- It is important for groups to arrive two hours prior to the flight departure time. Please make sure your group is aware of TSA travel and security regulations (www.tsa.gov). Also make sure that members in your group are aware of the luggage weight allowance and are prepared to pay their checked baggage fees. Any overweight luggage is subject to additional fees. Check your specific airline's website to review their policies, as all airlines are different.
- Each passenger over 18 is required to have a government-issued ID available for check-in.
- Encourage your participants to be polite, to be ready for security checks, to be respectful on the plane, and to remain in their seats during the flight.

AT HOTELS

Students on Tour attempts to find nice, quality hotels for our groups. Part of our agreement with hotels is that we will not allow student groups to be loud, running or congregating in the hallways, or out of control in any manner.

With that in mind, we encourage you to assist us in student control at hotels. We observe a strict curfew, providing security guards on the hotel floors at night. You and your chaperones will need to do evening room checks to ensure students have settled into their rooms by curfew. We also ask that you inspect rooms prior to check-out to ensure that rooms have been left in good shape and students have not left anything behind.

For the students' safety, we require that they do not leave the hotel floors unless with an adult.

AT ATTRACTIONS

Most of the attractions that we visit require that students remain with chaperones. It is a wise policy that eliminates a myriad of situations.

We ask that you have your students divided into chaperone groups prior to arriving on the program. Many places require at least one adult per ten students. This would correspond with the number of complimentary chaperones we provide space for on most Education Programs.

We trust that you will prepare your students to be kind, courteous, and polite to the people around them at the various attractions we visit. Remind them that they are examples wherever we go and that we want to be encouraging to the people we encounter on our visit.
